Congo Leader Tries to Starve Out UN Troops

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly today adopted a sharply worded resolution demanding that the South African government immediately end its "tyrannical policies and practices" in South West Africa.

The 99-nation assembly decided to bring the situation to the attention of the Security Council as a possible threat to international peace. At the same time it called on the U.N.'s Special Committee on South West Africa to take urgent steps to remedy the situation with or without the cooperation of the South African government.

The abstentions included the so-called colonial powers in addition to Cameroon. The United States voted yes.

The resolution charged South Africa specifically with racial discrimination in the former League of Nations mandate, with terrorization of the population and the use of armed forces to impose its policies.

The assembly previously had censured South Africa for seeking to annex South West Africa. South Africa also was under fire in the special political committee where a vote was expected later in the day on moves to soften South African apartheid-segregation policies.

African-backed demands for a worldwide break with South Africa faced possible committee approval but almost certain defeat later in the assembly. Western and Asian countries were supporting a milder resolution.

ELIZABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The U.N. leader in Elizabethville was down to c-rations and just a little fresh food today.

A U.N. spokesman said sellers of bread and other fresh foods still were carrying on the economic war Katanga President Moise Tshombe ordered Tuesday after his troops' attempt to take full control of the Elizabethville Airport failed.

U.N. officials said Tshombe, at a conference Wednesday with Gen. Sean McKeown, the U.N. military chief in the Congo, agreed to suspend the economic sanctions against the 1,000 U.N. troops and civilian employees. But Tshombe issued no orders to his people to that effect, and many still observed the boycott.

Water and electric power, switched off for two days, have been returned to most U.N. establishments.

Telephones have been connected again in the U.N. headquarters.

But shops and restaurants are still refusing to sell to U.N. troops and they still are not admitted to some hotels.

Brother of Publisher Dies at 57

Lindsley Morgan Washburn, 57, brother of A. H. Washburn, The Star's publisher, died Thursday at his home in Bryn Mawr, Pa., suburb of Philadelphia, after a year's illness of intestinal cancer.

Mr. Washburn was district manager of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. for Upper Darby, west-side Philadelphia, until his retirement for physical disability at the end of 1960.

L. M. Washburn, Bryn Mawr, Pa., and his twin sister, Mrs. F. M. Gibson, Sarasota, Fla., from a family reunion picture taken by The Editor three years ago in Florida.

He was a graduate of Wyoming Seminary, Methodist preparatory school in his home town of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and of Lehigh University. He was a mathematician, an actuary, and an athlete. He represented Lehigh in wrestling, and placed second to a Yale man in an Ivy League meet.

After graduating from Lehigh, Mr. Washburn became a student actuary for Metropolitan Life in New York City. He joined Paramount-Publix Theaters as chief of the statistical department for a year, spent another year as chief supervisor of the Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation Department, and then returned to Metropolitan Life at Wilkes-Barre. He was promoted to district manager at Sunbury, Pa., and then to the post at Upper Darby, the major Philadelphia district.

Mr. Washburn is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lillian Bogar Washburn, one son, William B. Washburn, and four sisters and brothers: Mrs. C. H. Yeager and Mrs. F. M. Gibson of Sarasota, Fla.; A. H. Washburn of Hope, and Charles William Washburn of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The funeral will be held at Bryn Mawr Monday morning, and The Star's publisher will fly there from Shreveport Saturday.

A moonshine liquor still was destroyed yesterday six miles south of Spring Hill and Orie Wyatt, 57, was arrested by officers. The police destroyed a 50 gallon pot and 50 gallons of mash. Wyatt will be arraigned before the U.S. Court Commissioner at Texarkana. Making the raid were Deputy Sheriff Herbert Griffin, ABC Officer Harvey Fullerton and federal ATF officer.

Group Plans National Library Week

Haskell Jones today became chairman of the Citizens' Committee, which will direct local participation in the observance of National Library Week, designated as April 16-22. The week is the focal point of a year-round coordinated program, designed to stimulate life-time reading habits as well as citizen support and use of libraries of all kinds.

Inaugurated in 1958, the reading development drive has scored significant success in awakening public awareness of the values of the printed word in our national life. The program has resulted in extensive gains in library circulation as well as impressive support of library services in many of the 5000 participating communities throughout the nation.

The Citizens' Committee, chaired by Mr. Jones, will include E. R. Brown, B. N. Holt, Mrs. Harold Brents, Mrs. Charles Wilhite, Billy Wray, Mrs. Mary Walker, Mrs. Joann Phillips and Teddy Jones. Its activities and long-range local goals will be reinforced by the state-wide program headed by Dr. Paul McCain, President of Arkansas College, Executive Director for Arkansas.

National Library Week is a non-profit nationwide citizens' movement sponsored by the National Book Committee, Inc., in cooperation with the American Library Association.

Reaffirms Tax Aid Position

BOSTON (AP) — The Council of Bishops of the Methodist Church has reaffirmed its opposition to tax support of private and parochial schools.

The council issued a statement Thursday after a closed four-day meeting.

The issue of federal funds for other than public schools has caused considerable comment from political and religious leaders since President Kennedy proposed aid for public secondary schools only.

Those Against Omnibus Bill to Merge Forces

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Attorneys for defendants and intervenors in the lawsuit challenging constitutionality of Gov. Orval E. Faubus' $16 million omnibus law met in the attorney general's office today to consolidate their strategy.

Lawyers for several intervenors were present when the closed meeting started.

So were Jack Holt Jr., chief assistant attorney general, as official representative of Faubus and the other defendants, and William J. Smith, Faubus' personal attorney and drafter of the omnibus law.

Holt, who presided in absence of acting Atty. Gen. Frank Holt, said the lawyers would try to consolidate pleadings as much as possible to speed up a decision.

Pulaski County Rep. J. H. Cotrell Jr. filed the suit against the catchall appropriation bill, touching off a spirited fight between himself and Faubus.

Eugene Warren, Cotrell's attorney, was not invited to today's meeting. Holt said he would meet with Warren later and they would try to get together with Chancellor Guy E. Williams, early next week to set a hearing date.

Besides Holt and Smith, lawyers at the meeting included Ray Trammel for the University of Arkansas, E. M. Arnold for the State Livestock Show Association, William Fleming for the Arkansas Municipal League and James L. Sloan for two labor unions.

Holt said every effort would be made to cut corners in briefing responses to the suit.

Williams has set an April 25 deadline for filing pleadings.

Both Faubus and Cotrell have urged quick action.

Cotrell's suit contends the omnibus law, part of Faubus' $76 million spending program, is unconstitutional because it appropriates for a number of items ranging from construction to salaries.

Faubus has halted state construction projects pending a decision.

A series of interventions have been filed, mainly by departments and agencies which would benefit under the bill.

Besides Faubus, defendants in the case are other members of a state construction board headed by the governor which the act created and State Treasurer J. Vance Clayton, whose office would pay out money allotted by the measure.

Frank Holt announced the meeting Thursday. Before final arrangements were completed, Holt became ill with an apparent virus infection and his physician sent him to a hospital.

U.S. Promises Not to Let Viet Nam Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States does not intend to let down the people of South Viet Nam "in the dangerous situation they are now facing," the State Department said today.

Press officer Robert McLoskey said the administration of President Kennedy is "determined to continue its strong support of the government of Viet Nam."

Earlier, Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., had called for a strengthening of South Viet Nam's army to avoid the risk of losing the area to the Communists.

The reaffirmation of strong U.S. support came as Communist terrorists started up a campaign in advance of a Vietnamese presidential election Sunday.

McLoskey confirmed that discussions are under way with the Viet Nam government on increased military and economic assistance. He gave no details.

For the second day in a row the State Department stressed the serious concern of the U.S. government at the tempo of Communist Viet Cong attacks in many areas of South Viet Nam.

McLoskey noted that President Kennedy and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan had consulted at length on Thursday over the Viet Nam situation at the same time they were discussing the future of Laos.

McClellan Disagrees on Spending

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., says he is not in complete agreement with President Kennedy's spending plans and he would like a definition of the President's New Frontiers policy.

At a meeting of the Building Contractors Association of New Jersey Thursday night, he said he opposes burdening "the heritage of future generations with a perilous national debt."

There are 12 administration proposals before Congress now that would increase the annual national debt by $4.7 billion in the next fiscal year and would add $20 billion in the next five years, he said.

"I do not rule out and reject all of these measures as being unnecessary," McClellan said, "but I do say that responsible government should be able to find ways and means to meet this increased cost."

He said the proposals were exclusive of defense, foreign aid or space exploration spending requests.

If New Frontier means more government spending and rising prices, then, McClellan said, "these are not the new frontiers of our hopes and aspirations. They represent areas we desperately need to circumvent and avoid."

Claimants Council Opens Meeting

BIOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The 8th and 10th Circuits of the National Association of the Claimants Council of America opened a three-day convention here Thursday with about 250 persons from 12 western and mid-west states attending.

Former Arkansas Gov. Sid McCrath is Junior Governor of the 8th Circuit.

The organization is made up of trial lawyers who specialize in representing plaintiffs in personal injury suits. It has 9,000 members in the United States and several foreign countries.

Thomas F. Lambert Jr. of Boston, Mass., editor of the association's publication, will address a convention banquet tonight.

Department Store Sales Dip Some

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reports that department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District the week ended April 1 were two per cent below sales in the similar week last year.

Louisville sales rose five per cent and those in Little Rock one per cent. This was offset by a four per cent drop in St. Louis, a one per cent decline in Memphis and a slump of nine per cent in seven smaller district cities.

Sales for the four weeks ended April 1 were eight per cent above those of the corresponding period in 1961.

PSC Names Replacement for Blair

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dan D. Stephens of Clinton will be named as general counsel for the Arkansas Public Service Commission to replace L. D. Blair, Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today.

The effective date of the appointment depends on how soon Stephens can wind up his present duties as an assistant to the governor.

Stephens, 41, has worked in the governor's office for the past two years, except for a leave of absence during which he was campaign manager for the national Democratic ticket in last year's election.

The PSC job pays $10,000 a year. Stephens has been making $7,500 as a governor's aide.

Stephens has been mentioned prominently for possible appointment as Democratic U. S. attorney here.

Stephens said the change in state jobs did not indicate he had given up hope of this appointment.

Stephens is a former state representative and a former prosecuting attorney.

Son Steals Auto, Mother Turns In

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Police say a mother here turned in her son for driving a stolen auto.

Officers said the mother picked up a telephone extension at home Thursday and overheard her son, 15, telling a schoolmate he would pick him up for school in a car.

Since she knew her son had no car, she drove to the schoolmate's home and saw her son arrive in a 1959 model. She said she chased the two boys several blocks before she blocked them and took both boys to Juvenile Court.

Court officials said the two boys had been released last week on charges of burglary.

French Make Sweep at All Terrorists

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

PARIS (AP) — French police made a nationwide sweep against suspected Algerian and French terrorists today as killings and bombings increased after the collapse of hopes for immediate negotiations to end the Algerian rebellion.

Paris police hunted an Algerian execution squad that carried the hit-and-run war between rival rebel factions into a suburban hospital Thursday, killing 2 persons and wounding 12.

In Algiers, the U.S. consulate was bombed after it closed for the day and an attempt was made to burn the American cultural center. Both attacks were attributed to French rightists retaliating for U.S. moves to get peace talks started between the French and the Algerian rebels.

Police rounded up known French extremists in Paris and the French provinces also for questioning. The police said no well known persons were picked up, and it was not immediately known if any of those questioned were detained.

Memphis Heiress Is Found Dead

HONOLULU (AP) — A 49-year-old Memphis, Tenn., woman, reported to have inherited $6 million has been found dead in her room at the plush Royal Hawaiian Hotel on Waikiki Beach.

Police said Mrs. Mary Hill of 4354 Walnut Drive was found dead Thursday by her husband of 27 years, Kenneth, 50. They quoted him as saying his wife had complained of chest pains.

Police said there was no sign of foul play.

Hill, an electrical contractor, told police his wife inherited $3 million about six years ago from her father, and another $3 million about six months ago from her mother.

Hill said they had planned to return to Memphis Thursday because he had received word that his aunt had died.

St. Louis Papers to Raise Prices

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The price of both St. Louis daily newspapers will be raised to seven cents a copy effective Monday.

The afternoon Post-Dispatch and the morning Globe-Democrat gave rising costs as the reason for the 2-cent increase.

The Sunday Post will remain at 20 cents and the Sunday Globe at 15 cents.

U.S., Britain Fear Series of New Crises

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan reportedly fear the development of a series of crises between the Western powers and the Soviet Union this year.

These views are reported to prevail in spite of encouraging progress recently made toward agreement on a cease-fire in the civil war in Laos.

A generally somber outlook for East-West relations emerges from information made available by U.S. and British officials on the discussions of the two allied leaders here during the past two days.

The talks were recessed today while Macmillan flies to Boston for an address at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A final session of the two men and their advisers will be held at the White House Saturday morning after which they plan to issue what one official called a business-like statement on the range of their discussions.

Meanwhile, from authorities who participated in the meetings, the following picture of immediate and potential cold war trouble spots shapes up:

1. The U.S.-British negotiations with the Soviet Union for an agreement to prohibit the testing of nuclear weapons permanently under an international policing system are making very little progress. The Soviet Union's new demand that the agreement be ad-

U.S. to Send Troops to 'Hot Spots'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army plans to send thousands of additional combat troops to overseas "hotspots" in the next year as a means of countering communist thrusts.

At the same time, the Army will train 3,000 men in guerrilla warfare tactics for use in nations friendly to the United States.

Army leaders gave details of these intentions Thursday to a closed door hearing of the Senate Armed Services Committee. Later the testimony of Gen. George H. Decker, chief of staff, and of Secretary Elvis J. Stahr Jr. was made available to newsmen with military secrets deleted.

Today it is the Navy's turn to testify before the committee on President Kennedy's defense program. The Senate group will hear Adm. V. F. Halsey, chief of the missile sub program, on the Navy's plan to speed its nuclear powered Polaris submarines project. Other scheduled witnesses are Secretary John B. Connally and Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations.

Decker told the committee that 3,400 men will be added to the U. S. 7th Army, which now is part of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization shield in Europe. He also forecast an increase of more than 5,000 men in the Pacific "to meet the threat of limited war and for assisting our allies in countering sub-belligerency."

J. H. Nannie, 82, Dies Thursday in Local Hospital

NIGHT MARSHAL
By L. P. Holmes

CHAPTER XXIX
In the Palace it was a dull evening. Bar trade had been particularly slow. Scotty Deale yawned and wished the poker game yonder would break up, so that he might close for the night and get a little extra sleep. He realized his wish fairly early, for shortly after the hands of the clock on the bottle shelf marked the hour of 11, Lamar Hume pushed back his chair and announced his intention.

"That's it, so far as I'm concerned. These cards hold no interest for me. Maybe I've gone a little stale on poker. At any rate I'm through for the night. I hope you gentlemen don't mind?"

Just three of them were at the table. Hume, Ace MacSwain and Byron A. Garrison. To Hume's words, MacSwain nodded.

Hume and Garrison went out together. Ace MacSwain bought some cigars, selected one, snipped the tip off carefully and lighted up. He looked at Scotty Deale through the smoke and spoke thoughtfully.

"You ever get sick and tired of moving up and down behind the bar, Scotty—pouring drinks, wiping glasses, listening to idle whistly talk, day and night, months and years without end? For myself there come times when I feel I never want to see another card. Tonight is one of them, for there was no challenge in that session just finished, and without challenge of some sort there's no flavor in any game, including the one of life."

There was little capacity for imagination in Scotty Deale. Scotty's was a thoroughly grooved and methodical mind.

"Man's got to do something to earn a livin'," he grumbled. "And I'll take my job any time to one of runnin' a pick and shovel a thousand feet underground like plenty of fellers in this camp have to do. You wouldn't swap places with one of them, would you?"

MacSwain considered for a little time, a musing half-smile on his face.

"Now that you push me into a corner on the question, no I wouldn't," he admitted. "Being that sort of weak, pusillanimous human—But there is one thing we must admit, which is that the fellow with the pick and shovel underground is of far greater importance to the needs of the world than either of us, and at times I find that fact a little disquieting."

Scotty blinked as he digested this.

"I don't know nothin' about this bein' important to the world, and I ain't worryin' any about it. All I know right now is that I'm goin' to get a little extra sleep for a change. G'night!"

When Ace MacSwain walked away down street from the Palace, Elvie and Lee Spooner watched from the concealment of the blackness in the alley by the Hill House.

"Where'd he be goin'?" Lee mumbled.

"Don't know," Elvie told him. "But we're in luck. For the camp's empty down that way at this time of night. Come on."

They followed carefully, slinking shadows slithering through the protection of deeper shadows. They came presently to the corals and wagon park, and there Elvie pulled to a halt in the shelter of a towering freighter.

"Far enough. He'll be comin' back this way."

They hunkered down, lean and vicious and intent.

"He'll have a gun, you think?" Lee wondered.

"One of those belly guns, maybe. Won't get a chance to use it. Now keep quiet!"

The night, for all its seeming pause, had its own kind of sound and movement.

This cigar smoked out and cold, and midnight nearing, MacSwain headed back up town. He came in past the corals and through the wagon yard. And from the black shadow of a big freighter, two driving, lunging figures came at him, smashing into him, knocking him back and down.

They were savage, they were merciless. MacSwain fought back as best he could, but the advantage of numbers and initial surprise were all against him. Just once did he manage to roll free and land an effective strike, a kick which caught Lee Spooner low in the body and doubled him up for a moment.

But it also turned loose all the wildness that was in Lee Spooner, and when his scrambling hand happened to encounter a sizable chunk of rock that had spilled from one of the ore wagons, he used it as a club, hitting out twice with it before catching Ace MacSwain full on the temple with the third try.

With that blow, everything went away from the gambler and he became just a limp, quiescent shadow against the earth's deeper dark.

Her Mother-In-Law Bosses Home

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

A year ago I could have written to you about the most wonderful mother-in-law in the world. Today, it's a rare hour when I find anything good to say about her.

My husband and I are both 27, she 75, but she can walk circles around me, hasn't had a sick day in her life, and feels she must be here to help me.

Nothing is personal or private any more. Every time I turn around, I bump into her. I can't even read a newspaper in peace.

We have a lovely home, financially better off than average and take no money from her. She just wants to be needed but we don't need her.

Normally, I am happy-go-lucky and have a sense of humor. My mother-in-law would take away even that. I love my husband and he me. He sees what is happening to me but doesn't want to break his mother's heart, nor do I. Can you give me some good, sound advice? —M.

Dear M.: I take it your mother-in-law lives with you. If so, even at the risk of hurt feelings, put her in a home of her own. Talk frankly to her — say that freedom of expression is the essence of life. But to be free, the individual must live according to his own, not another's, light, which is practically impossible when different generations are involved.

Make it clear that this in no way affects your love for her. If she doesn't live with you, be just as firm in discouraging daily visits. I am sending you two leaflets which may be of help, "Mothers-in-law" and "Are You A Good Daughter-in-law?"

Dear Helen:

I am at a loss whether or not to marry the girl I love now or Law Reviews.

He presented his views, on behalf of Francis Cardinal Svelman in a statement filed in Washington with the House Committee on Education and Labor.

President Kennedy excluded aid to parochial schools from his program of aid to education.

Cusack's suggestions were: 1. To make a distinction, as did President Kennedy in a news conference March 1, between aid to the child and aid to the school. By this means, said Cusack, direct benefits could be granted to all school children, including those attending church-related schools.

Various possibilities were cited as providing pupils with nonreligious textbooks and supplies, and to make available to them certain nonreligious educational services.

2. Some form of grant or benefit for parents of all school children, such as reimbursement for tuition payments or income tax deductions.

3. Long-term low-interest loans in which church-related schools could participate. The interest would be lower than on loans obtained commercially.

4. Aid for the nonreligious facilities of church-related schools and perhaps compensation of teachers who instruct in secular subjects.

wait till I'm solvent. —G.

Dear G.: Don't fall for that old line that, "Two can live as cheaply as one." They can't, especially when baby makes it three. Better wait till you have enough in the bank for this and other contingencies that are all part of married life. Has your fiancée a job? If not, she should get one and, with you, save up for a happy marriage. Start a separate savings account for this purpose. It can be fun. Anticipation spices life.

Dear Helen:

Recently, I went with two other girls and four boys (including my date) to a restaurant 20 miles away. I called Dad around 12 (as soon as I could get to a phone). He gave me a blasting. I'm almost 17. Isn't it time I got out and had a little fun? I used to date before I was 15. Mother isn't living now. Would this make a difference? —Stay at Home, Bear River, Nova Scotia.

Dear Stay at Home: Cheer up. The girls in Canada come of age at 18. You have only one more year to go. Meanwhile, obey your Dad. Though you may not agree now, he has your welfare at heart. So would your mother, were she alive.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available.

Baylor's Bears Defeat Arkansas

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Baylor's hefty Bears walloped Arkansas 16-2 and 5-1 in a baseball doubleheader here Thursday. The Razorbacks wound up a five-game Southwest Conference road trip with a 2-3 chart.

Gerald Erwin shut out Arkansas through the first six innings of the first game after Ted Uhlander led off the first inning with an inside the park home run.

Jimmie Fisher relieved Art Whitaker after he had allowed the Hogs one run in the first inning of the second game, and blanked the Hogs the rest of the way to gain the victory. Darrell Peters gave Baylor six hits in that game.

Arkansas was 2-2 before the road trip and now stands 4-5 for the season.

Austin Victim of Ouachita

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Don Rosa pitched five innings of one-hit baseball in leading Ouachita Baptist College to a 9-1 victory over Austin College of Sherman, Tex., Thursday.

Ken Davenport followed him for the last four innings and yielded two hits and Austin's only run.

Tom Niemeyer socked a two-run homer in the first, sparking a four-run rally that put Ouachita ahead to stay. Tommy Murphree doubled in the rally and Bud Dooley contributed a two-run single.

'T' IS OUT MINNEAPOLIS

Tax Deadline Is Now April 17

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's taxpayers will get two extra days this year, until April 17, to file their federal income tax returns.

Whenever a federal tax deadline falls on a Saturday, Sunday or holiday, it is extended to the next day which is not in this category.

The law isn't specific on this point, but past practice has been to consider as filed on time any mailed return postmarked before midnight on deadline day.

Every day 71-year-old Grover Garrett, the first man to see the lion, meets his granddaughter at her school bus stop. And Justen James, leader of the only organized search so far, makes almost daily forays into the woods.

"A lot of children have to walk to school bus stops in there," he explains.

Garrett watched the animal "coming down the road in a lope." At 70 yards he emptied his shotgun at it.

"It didn't even draw blood, though. I knew my shot was too light to hurt him." The blast "just sort of checked him."

He figured the animal "some-

Hawks Count on Lovellette in Game Sat.

By CHUCK CAPALDO
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks today counted on the probable return of Clyde Lovellette — back brace and all — to give them a much needed lift against the Boston Celtics in pro basketball's world series.

The 4-foot-9 Lovellette, who averaged 26.3 points against the Celtics during the regular season, will be available for duty here Saturday afternoon when the best-of-seven National Basketball Association title playoff resumes. The Hawks trail 0-2.

Lovellette, out of action since March 27 with a twisted back suffered in the semifinal playoffs against the Lakers, has been working out the last few days. "The Hawks' third rebounder and scorer said the doctors have given him the go-ahead, provided he wear a stiff brace on his back.

Lovellette said he can't bend down with the brace on and it may hinder his jumping ability. But, he added:

"It doesn't hurt my shooting. I'm hitting pretty good."

Clyde averaged 453 from the floor during the regular campaign. Many of his 1,471 points came on one-handed shots from the outside.

The Hawks feel that a consistent outside shooter would force the Celtics' 6-foot-11 Bill Russell to come out, giving the Hawks a better chance for baskets from inside. So far, Russell, while not breaking any scoring records, has rebounded the Hawks with blocks and rebounds. Here, too, Lovellette's 235 pounds would come in handy, if only to jockey Russell out of position.

Dodgers and Orioles Get Pennant Nod

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers and the Baltimore Orioles, a pair of clubs loaded with young talent, are the choices here to meet in the 1961 World Series next October.

Walter Alton's Dodgers, who finished fourth last year, should repeat their 1959 National League triumph because they possess the prime pennant ingredients—strong pitching, stout defense and superb speed. They lack power but they are blessed with sufficient strength to two-platoon without suffering any noticeable dip in quality.

Paul Richards' Orioles also have the speed, defense and pitching—especially pitching. Always a prime factor, pitching takes on added importance in the American League this season because of the additional two teams which have caused an expansion of the schedule from 154 to 162 games.

The defending champion Pirates and Yankees should finish second, with the Cardinals and Chicago White Sox third and Milwaukee and Cleveland fourth.

This appears to be the shape of things to come in each league:

National League—1. Los Angeles, 2. Pittsburgh, 3. St. Louis, 4. Milwaukee, 5. San Francisco, 6. Cincinnati, 7. Philadelphia, 8. Chicago.

American League—1. Baltimore, 2. New York, 3. Chicago, 4. Cleveland, 5. Minnesota, 6. Detroit, 7. Boston, 8. Kansas City, 9. Los Angeles, 10. Washington.

Baltimore's pitching, best in the American League last year, may be even stronger because of the experience gained by youngsters Chuck Estrada, Milt Pappas, Jack Fisher and Steve Barber. Also, Jerry Walker, a disappointment last year, looks like he's ready to pick up where he left off in 1959, when he was named to the All-Star team. The staff is complemented by veterans Hoyt Wilhelm, Hal Brown and Billy Hoelt and a promising rookie named John Papa.

The Yankees haven't changed except for the loss of second string pitcher Elia Grba and Bobby Shantz and utility players Dale Long and Bob Cerv. They boast such power hitters as Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris, Bill Skowron, Yogi Berra and Elston Howard, plus the versatile Tony Kubek and Cletis Boyer as well as Bobby Richardson and Hector Lopez. The pitching, however, is thin with Whitey Ford the only dependable starter. Bob Turley, Ralph Terry, Art Ditmar, Bill Stafford and Jim Coates are the other starters.

Dodger pitching is the most respected in the National League. It is evenly balanced with Don Drysdale, Stan Williams and Roger Craig firing from the right side and Johnny Podres, Andy Koufax and rookie Ron Perranoski from the left side. Larry Sherry can work both ways, start and relieve. Pittsburgh has the same team

Palmer Finds Himself a Bit Crowded

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Defending champion Arnold Palmer, who had things mostly his own way after last year's opening round, today was crowded by two dangerous fellow pros and a brawny amateur plunging into the second round of the 25th Masters Golf Tournament.

Palmer was tied for first at 4-under-par 68 with Bob Rosburg, whose record 100-foot putt keyed a torrid finish over rain-soaked Augusta National Thursday.

Just a stroke behind Palmer and Rosburg, whose rallying round also included a holed 120-foot pitch shot, was the year's top money-winner, South African Gary Player, at 69.

Two strokes arrears was the muscular amateur, Jack Nicklaus, who bagged a 70 playing with Palmer, Nicklaus, a runner-up to Palmer in the 1960 U.S. Open, matched the Master champ's closing nine 34, two under par.

Last year, when Palmer led every round to capture his second Masters title, he shot an opening 67—two strokes better than the field.

Four others broke Augusta National's par 72 in Thursday's persistent drizzle which failed to dampen the enthusiasm of more than 10,000 spectators.

They included two-time champion Byron Nelson, 49, the 1957 king, Doug Ford, and two solid journeyman pros, Paul Harney and Johnny Pott, who came in with 71's.

Seven were knotted at 72, including amateur Charley Cox, last year's runnerup Ken Venturi, PGA champ Ray Herbert, Gene Littler, Tommy Bolt, Stan Leonard, and Billy Casper.

Among no fewer than 23 locked at 74 were three-time champion Sammy Snead and two-time winner Ben Hogan.

After today's second round—tabbed to face cloudy, cool and possibly rainy weather—the original 88-player starting field will be trimmed to the low 40 score and ties, or 41 if there are no ties for 40th place.

Clearly, Palmer again is the man to beat. He dispelled his pre-tourney worry over putting Thursday, using 28 putts and having nine one-putt greens.

that defeated the Yankees in the World Series. The Pirates have good balance, sound pitching and an admirable defense. Shantz, the only newcomer, should help in the bullpen.

The Cardinals figure to be tough again. Larry Jackson's injury—a fractured jaw—may set them back a little but they have a solid pitching staff headed by Ernie Broglio, Bob Miller, Ray Sadecki, Curt Simmons and Al Cicotte. They have adequate power in Musial, Boyer, Bill White and Daryl Spencer. Their crying need is an established center fielder.

The Braves improved their infield at the expense of the outfield and pitching. Aaron is the only solid outfielder and Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette and Bob Buhl are the only established starters with the possibility of Carl Willey finally coming into his own. They sorely lack a bullpen specialist.

A weak bullpen also threatens to handicap the Giants, who may have problems at first, second and shortstop.

Roebuck Hurt; Chiago May Have a Leader

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Relief pitcher Ed Roebuck may be all through—again—the Chicago Cubs have a leader—for two weeks, anyway; and the exhibition tour finally hits a major league park today as baseball closes in on the start of the 1961 season.

Roebuck, who hasn't pitched an inning this spring because of shoulder trouble, was placed on the disabled list by the Los Angeles Dodgers Thursday, pending approval by Commissioner Ford Frick. It's the second time in three years that Roebuck, 29, has been hit by shoulder miseries.

The Cubs, meanwhile, picked Vedic Hims from their coaching group to open the season as quasi-manager. It's owner Phil Wigley's idea to go with a leader instead of a definite manager this season, shifting the head man role among the four coaches who will be with the club at any one time.

With the season set to open Monday, and President Kennedy now officially scheduled to throw out the first ball at Washington when the Chicago White Sox meet the new Senators, the exhibition trail led the New York Yankees to the St. Louis Cardinals' Busch Stadium today for the opener of a three-game series.

Both were idle Thursday while the Cincinnati Reds again clipped Milwaukee, 6-5; the Dodgers belted San Francisco 14-7, the Cubs defeated Boston 9-5, the Detroit Tigers trimmed Chicago's White Sox 7-2, the Cleveland Indians beat the Los Angeles Angels 6-5 in 12 innings and Kansas City smacked Minnesota 9-4.

In a night game at Miami, Baltimore whipped Washington 8-1 with right-hander Steve Barber blanking the Senators on four hits in the seven innings he worked.

The Reds came from behind with two runs in the ninth to win at Columbia, S.C., against the Braves' Bob Buhl, who went the distance for the third time although giving up 12 hits.

Sad Sam Jones of the Giants was tagged for nine runs in four innings at Phoenix by the Dodgers, who finished with 13 hits—including a double, three triples and home runs by Duke Snider, winning pitcher Don Drysdale and Charlie Smith.

At Sarasota, the Tigers had just four hits, but won their third in a row with five unearned runs in the second inning. Herb Score was the loser.

Johnny Romano's third hit of the day, a one out single, capped a two-run comeback for the Indians in the bottom of the 12th at Tucson against Angels' rookie Aubrey Gatewood. Lou Klimchuck's three-run homer brought the A's from behind in the seventh against Twins' ace Pete Ramos at West Palm Beach.
